William Lott Monroe, Sr., was born in Montgomery County in North Carolina. During his years at Elon College he was impressed with the importance of Christian education and with the friendly atmosphere and helpful attitude of professors, students and local citizens. He continues to advise young people to "strive for Christian education and good citizenship."

Founder of Monroe's Landscape and Nursery Company, he has been a leader in his profession. He has served as President of the Georgia Landscape and Nursery Association and of the Southern Association of Nurserymen. He was instrumental in helping to establish the School of Landscape Architecture at the University of Georgia.

Mr. and Mrs. Monroe, the former Miss Ila

Smith of De Funiak Springs, Florida, have two children and four grandchildren.

Because of his interest in young people in general and students at Elon College in particular, Mr. Monroe established the Monroe Awards in 1950. Two cash prizes are awarded each year to the young man and the young woman who, in the judgment of the faculty, have made the most improvement in overall development including scholarship, personality, and character.

In grateful appreciation to Mr. Monroe for his interest in Christian education and especially for his concern for the development of students who enroll at his Alma Mater, we dedicate the PHI PSI CLI to him.

PROLOGUE

The Senior Oak is more than a symbol of the senior class at Elon. It is also the symbol of age and experience. A student at the end of his high school career is sadly lacking in that all-important age and experience. His life is like an unfinished novel, filled with the joys and sorrows of childhood. It is the next chapter in that novel which serves to direct the plot of his life. The decision on the part of a serious student to enter a liberal arts college is the beginning of this chapter. We of the Phi Psi Cli staff of 1965 offer to you our memories as a guide to discovering the advantages of Elon, an outstanding example of the liberal arts college.

"I have never allowed fellowship with those who are my friends and my enemies to be pushed completely aside by concern with formal education. To me, my most enriching moments are those which I have spent with my fellow beings. It is in those moments that I am most able to construct my own philosophy of life. Here at Elon, I have contact with people from every type of environment. Some of those people agree with me in my own beliefs; others do not. I learn from all of them.

I am able to examine my beliefs in a new light. The old limitations of home and geographical area are left in the past with childhood. A new freedom of personal opinion is thrust upon me. To some, this freedom is bewildering; to others, it is stabilizing. I have found it stabilizing, in that all that I have ever done or thought is progressing toward a culmination which is the goal of the educated man."

For myself, I believe in people—and in their given right to enjoy the freedoms we so cherish....

—Julien Bryan

The only thing a person ever really owns is his mind. That is one of the first lessons a liberal arts college student learns. And so he realizes he must cultivate it.

He takes up the book. At his desk, head bent against hand in the intensity of the lighted room, he takes up the challenge. He finds education a gateway to the future, a pass-key into a realm in which he has many obligations. He finds the strength to support his opinions. He blends together his own mind with the knowledge and experience that men before him have gathered and recorded. And now he stirs it gently in the lighted room. Life begins to acquire a balance. It is a slow balance, but it remains steady and constant in the four-year flood of time. It is unnoticeable even to him, to his suddenly crowded brain. But he is being educated.

He must learn to think critically and logically. His entire life at college is an effort to prepare his mind for another time when it must cope with real-life problems in a world that demands the very best of his talents.

He has other opportunities. There are students and professors who share his interests, others who present questions and problems that he has never before imagined. They meet with him privately or in small groups. He has the opportunity of challenging, seminar-like discussions to make use of his knowledge. And these experiences are always available. The student of a small, liberal arts college need only open his mind. What he discovers might not always be what he wants to discover, but it will be exciting and enriching and beneficial to him as a person. That will always remain the opportunity of such an education.

LIBERAL ARTS FORUM

The Liberal Arts tradition is an attempt to provide students with a broad basis of thought. The Liberal Arts Forum is a vital part of this process. Through this student supported program, outstanding scholars are brought to this campus to present lectures in their own particular fields. But even more important to the growth of learning on the part of the students are the informal discussions following the lectures.

Ben Jonson and his friends spent much of their time in involved discussions over a cup of coffee. It is in such a relaxed atmosphere as this, when all of the barriers to thought that are involved in formal teaching are gone, that the dedicated student can freely delve into the opinions of others and, from them, add to his own philosophy. Elon College has made an enormous step forward in the intellectual sphere by the initiation of the Liberal Arts Forum.

MID-WINTERS WEEKEND

To the music of the Jack White Combo and in the elegance of the Mid-Winters' semi-formal dinner dance on the night of Friday, February 12th, beautiful Pat Dean, a senior from Burlington, and football star Rex Harrison, a senior from Norfolk, Va., were crowned the Sweetheart Queen and King of the Elon campus. The crowning was by SGA Vice-President Mike Herbert.

The reigning pair, who ruled over the Mid-Winters Weekend, were chosen by vote of the student body in a special campus election. Their coronation at the dinner dance furnished a fine beginning for the festive weekend.

This dinner dance on Friday was only the first of two dances for the weekend, for after a victory over the East Carolina basketball squad on Saturday night, there was another dance in McEwen that featured the dance music of the Sensational Squires.

The Elon College Fighting Christians clinched their first full championship since 1941 when the team tied the Lenoir Rhyne Bears 7-7 at Burlington Memorial Stadium on Saturday night, November 14. In 1963 the Christians shared the title as co-champions with Catawba. Although the Christian supporters were disappointed in not turning back the Bears, they were elated to be No. 1 in the Conference and to have such a wonderful season. On November 21 Elon closed out its season with a tremendous 48 to 7 victory over Frederick College to bring the season's record to 8-1-1.

The Christians rewrote a large number of the Fighting Christian football records. The Christian gridders smashed no less than 23 of Elon's all-time football records and tied five others.

EMORY AND HENRY GAME

The Fighting Christians posted an opening game victory of 14-6 over the Wasps of Emory and Henry at Bristol, Tenn., on September 19. Both touchdowns resulted from passes from Ed Wheelless, the first to Clayton Johnson in the first quarter and the second to Pete Jarvis in the fourth quarter. Bobby Ferrell made both extra points with placement kicks.

GUILFORD GAME

The Elon Christians had to overcome the traditionally stubborn Guilford defense as they turned back the Quakers 15 to 6 in a battle on the Guilford field Saturday afternoon, September 26. The first TD came in the second quarter when Wheelless passed 7 yards to Jarvis. Ferrell made the placement kick. In the final quarter Sonny Pruette dodged a pair of tacklers and was off to pay territory on a brilliant 83-yard TD spring. The center pass was bad on the kick for the extra point, and Pruette grabbed the ball and passed to Doug Amick for the two points.

APPALACHIAN GAME

The Elon College Fighting Christians outplayed Appalachian State College for three quarters and then poured on twenty-two points in the fourth quarter to capture first place in the Carolinas Conference with a 28-7 victory over the Mountaineers in Boone on Saturday, October 3. Scoring for Elon: David Gentry 3 (14 yd. pass from Wheelless, 75-yardback of kickoff, 3-yd. run); Lamar Clark (2-lateral from Rex Harrison after pass from Wheelless); extra points—Ferrell 2 (placement). Safety for Elon—Jerry Rowe (tackled Flynt in end zone).

CAMP LEJEUNE GAME

The Christians were still undefeated after four games of their 1964 campaign, but they had to call on the talented toe of Bobby Ferrell for a last-ditch field goal to turn back a fighting crew of Camp Lejeune Marines 9 to 7 in a bitterly fought battle in Burlington on October 10. Going into the final period, the Fighting Christians were behind 1 point. The Marines had a 72-yd. pass play called back from the Elon end zone in the second quarter by a penalty and they missed a field goal try late in the fourth period which gave Elon the ball and started the Christian drive that ended with Ferrell's winning field goal. Amick made the TD run for Elon.

CARSON-NEWMAN GAME

Sheer power on the ground and quick thrusts through the air told the story as the Fighting Christians romped to a 31 to 6 victory over the Carson-Newman Eagles in Burlington Stadium October 17, maintaining the Elon undefeated record for the season with a fifth consecutive victory. The Christians scored one TD and the extra point in the first period. Two TD's in the second period and one TD in each of the remaining two periods. Scoring for Elon: Pruette (5-run), Clark 2 (3-run, 5-run), Stewart 2 (4-run, 2-run). Extra point—Ferrell (placement kick).

WESTERN CAROLINA GAME

Having nosed out Catawba 22 to 17 in an unbelievable spurt in the last ten minutes of their Homecoming game, the Fighting Christians were treated to the same kind of comeback by the Western Carolina Catamounts at Cullowhee on Saturday, October 31. With the Fighting Christians apparently in command of the game with a 20 to 0 lead and only ten minutes left in the final quarter, the Catamounts staged an uprising that resulted in three quick touchdowns and a 21 to 20 victory.

Numerous penalties and two long touchdowns called back contributed to Elon's first loss of the season. Scoring for Elon: Gentry (66-run), Stewart (51-pass from Wheelless), Harrison (64-pass from Wheelless). Extra points—Pruette 2 (pass from Wheelless).

NEWBERRY GAME

The deadly throwing of Ed Wheelless and brilliant running of Dave Gentry proved a double-pronged weapon that gave the Elon Christians a smashing victory over the Newberry Indians November 7, in a game played before a "Parents Night" crowd in Burlington Memorial Stadium.

The Christians were unable to get started in the opening period against a fighting band of Indians, but Wheelless and Gentry took the lead in later stages of the game as Elon racked four touchdowns. Gentry's speedy freshman halfback, got two of the TD's, one of them on a long pass from Wheelless, and the Asheville Atom himself got one to climax a drive. The final score came on a fumble recovery by Mike Ray in the Newberry end zone. Final score 29 to 6.

LENOIR RHYNE GAME

Carolinas Conference champs! The Fighting Christians won the Conference championship Saturday night, November 14, by playing the Lenoir Rhyne Bears to a 7 to 7 tie. This victory gave Elon a conference record of 4-1-1. Although Elon was hoping for a victorious decision over the Bears, Elon supporters were proud of the team that brought the school an undisputed championship for the first time in 23 years. The Christians were co-champions with Catawba in 1963. The last full championship up to this time was the 1941 team. Lenoir Rhyne scored the first time it got the ball, driving 66 yards for the touchdown. Elon was hard pressed to even the count with just 40 seconds remaining in the first half. Fred Stewart, hard running Elon left halfback, made a wide sweep around right end to give the Christians 6 points, the tie coming on the extra point kick by Bobby Ferrell. The second half was a stalemate. However, Elon was on the Lenoir Rhyne three yard line when the game ended.

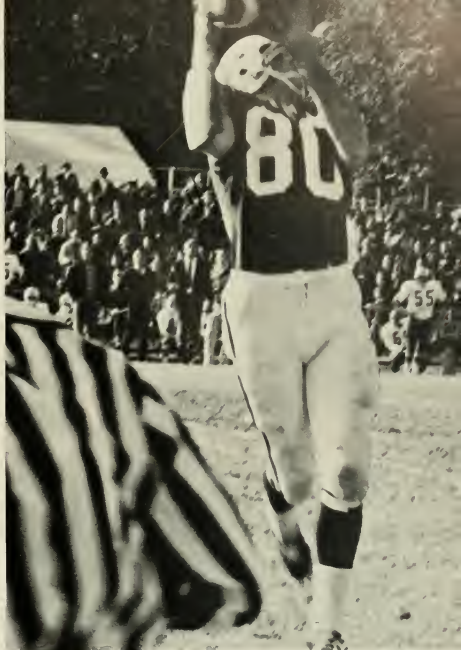

FREDERICK GAME

The Fighting Christians, Carolinas Conference champions, closed their 1964 season in a blaze of glory in defeating Frederick College, near Portsmouth, Va., 48 to 7 at Frederick on Saturday, November 21. Ed Wheelless, Elon quarterback, threw four touchdown passes to lead the rout. Wheelless hit halfback David Gentry for passes of seven and 89 yards and connected with Fred Stewart on tosses of thirteen and eight yards. Others scoring for Elon were Amick, 3 yard run; Gentry, 6 yard run; Pruette, 30 yard run; Bobby Ferrell kicked six out of seven points. The halftime lead was 34 to 0.

HOMECOMING GAME

Elon 22

Catawba 17

Homecoming football games at Elon College for the past few years have become famous for providing thrills. Homecoming October 24 perhaps tops them all for sheer excitement. Down 17 points to the Catawba Indians with only ten minutes left in the final quarter, the Elon Fighting Christians suddenly exerted the fighting qualities that has made them famous and in the best tradition of Homecoming finishes made a fantastic comeback for a 22 to 17 victory. Although the entire Elon team caught fire, it was the outstanding direction of quarterback Ed Wheless that saved the day.

Starting from the Elon three, Wheless completed 7 of 10 passes for a total of 130 yards within four minutes as he drove the Christians to two TD's. Wheless himself bulled over from the two with the first, and just one minute and twenty-five seconds later he tossed 17 yards to Rex Harrison for the score that moved Elon to within two points of the Indians. Along with the two TD's came a one-point kick by Bobby Ferrell and a two-point conversion by Dave Gentry.

Then came the pay-off. Joe Dawson recovered a Catawba fumble at the Indians twenty-seven. Stewart bulled his way almost to the Catawba seventeen, and then Ed Wheless kept and reeled and twisted for the score. Ferrell kicked good for 22 to 17, and the Christians sailed home triumphant in Catawba's own canoe.

CAROLINAS CONFERENCE CHAMPIONS—1964-65

BASKETBALL

For the past few seasons the Elon Christian basketball team had started with a rush and piled up a large number of victories before the mid-season point, slacking off toward the close of the season. In 1963-64 it was because of injuries to key players. The situation was reversed, however, in the 1964-65 campaign. Elon defeated High Point in the final game of the conference tournament to clinch its first cage championship since 1956.
